ANTI-AMERICAN DEMONSTRATIONS IN EL PASO OVER ARREST OF SOLDIERS

United States soldiers guard the Mexican consulate on North Oregon street. The guard was ordered there by Col. E. Z. Stever, of the Fourth cavalry, after the demonstration of Thursday night by a person thought to be temporarily demented.

"I did not request the guard, as I do not think it is necessary," Mexican consul Enrique C. Lorente said Friday. "It was very thoughtful of the commander of the American troops to wish to offer me this protection and it is appreciated."

New evidence of an anti-American feeling, precipitated by the infantrymen's unfortunate mistake yesterday, were displayed on the streets of El Paso last night.

The recent incident when a score of armed Mexicans were taken in charge by United States troops while on American territory west of here was regarded as a sort of joke. But the event of an American squad of armed men accidentally touching Mexican soil apparently had caused a row, and the residents in the south part of this city to think an injustice had been done, and they proceeded to "see about it."

The first demonstration occurred at the home of the Mexican consul on Oregon street, where it is understood that president of the city, who as the not held prisoners for one week, as the Mexican soldiers were when captured on this side.

A crowd assembled again about 8:30 in the evening in front of the Western Union office on Oregon street, where a speech was made with suggestions that president Lorente be asked for the resignation of the consul. The speech, it is said, aroused the soldiers and a squad of police were required to disperse the crowd.

Fearing that the auditors still harbored the resentment which had been fired in them by the woman agitator last night, the evening, Company K, of the Fourth regiment of the Texas National Guard was called together, with

A Valuable Suggestion

IMPORTANT TO EVERYONE

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and wastes from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, inability to hold urine, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, yellow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail, absolutely free. Address J. A. Kline & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., and mention the El Paso Daily Herald.

JUAREZ IS TO HAVE NEW MAYOR

visited the race track in Juarez and searched the stalls and other places for arms and ammunition. The stable men, who were sleeping there, feared that the place was to be looted, but the men assured them that all they were hunting for was arms. They found none.

Who Is Mayor of Juarez?

Who is to be jefe politico of Juarez? This is a question men are asking of one another on the streets of the border town today.

Governor Abram Gonzalez, of Chihuahua, has notified Santiago Mestas that his resignation as jefe politico will be acceptable. But Mr. Mestas thinks not, and Mr. Mestas has not resigned. He says that the reason Gonzalez has asked for the resignation is that he (Mestas) is a candidate for the office at the election which will be held about a year from now, and Gonzalez favors some other man.

In the meantime, Gonzalez Thursday afternoon sent a telegram appointing Manuel Lopez de Nava as jefe politico. He is a justice of the peace and the supreme court of Mexico City declined to accept his resignation that he may become jefe politico. Besides, there is said to have been some objection to his having the place of mayor.

Gonzalez was notified of this and selected Emiliano Enriquez to be jefe politico of Juarez and has planned to send him here from Chihuahua. But whether he will come or not is still a mooted question.

Protesting against the proposed removal of Santiago Mestas as jefe politico of Juarez, a band concert was given in the Juarez plaza from 10:30 to 12 Friday morning. Another concert will be given during the afternoon, and it is expected that several speeches will be made.

Rojas Talks Guerrero.

Juarez is not worrying about the coming of Antonio Rojas. The rebels from the Guerrero district of Chihuahua say that Rojas, the rebel leader, with a band of 500 Vasquezistas, had taken the town of Guerrero without opposition. Guerrero is the headquarters of the Guerrero district and is 10 miles west of Minaca, and is located near the Mexico North Western railroad line.

Repairing Mexican Railroad.

Repairs on the Mexico North Western railroad are progressing well. Already the road is opened to Corralitos, which is 210 kilometers south from the city of Juarez. It is expected that all bridges will be repaired by Saturday, and that on Monday regular traffic between Juarez and Pearson will be resumed, while the road to Chihuahua will be opened on March 1. Trains are running regularly between Chihuahua and Madera and there have been no disturbances along that line.

Trains on Regular Schedule.

Mexican National trains are now running on the regular schedule, which brings the train from the south into the union station at 3:15 p. m. and makes it depart at 1:15 a. m. Because of the trouble along the National line in Chihuahua and the burning of some of the bridges, the train schedule was reversed for a time.

Militia Is Assembled.

Company K, of the Texas National Guard, was ordered to assemble and report to sheriff F. J. Edwards Thursday evening at 3:30. The order was issued by Adjutant General Henry Hutchins, of the Texas National Guard, who has been here representing Governor O. B. Colquhoun. The militia was assembled by Capt. Wallace T. Downey and remained under arms all night. Lieutenants W. C. Elliott and W. E. Jenkins are second in command to Capt. Downey.

GUARDS FOR CITY OF CHIHUAHUA

for the protection of the city from pillage and looting met with failure at the meeting held in the Teatro de los Heroes. There were at least 300 persons who responded to the call and each speaker on behalf of the movement was applauded frequently, but cold water was thrown on this enthusiasm later when an ex-Maderista official, a member of the committee in charge of organizing a guard for the protection of the city because, he said, to arm the clerks and porters in the stores would both provoke and excite the people.

Armed Men Rode Station. Armed men, mounted astride good horses, rode up to the station at Dorado, situated between Jimenez and Marbaca on the Mexican central road, and covering the agent with their rifles, demanded the cash in his safe.

To save his life he complied with the request and turned over to them a large amount of money. Afterwards the men searched the warehouse and confiscated everything of value and then rode off toward the mountains.

Postoffice Resumes.

The postoffice service is restored in all departments and money orders are being issued same as before the trouble.

Smallpox Disappears.

Smallpox is gone from the city, disappearing as mysteriously as it came several months ago.

Trejo Wins Mayorship Again.

Rafael Trejo, the Mexican National candidate for mayor of this city, was again returned the winner in the last election, this time by a greater majority than before. He received over 3100 votes to his opponent's 611. He was opposed for office by Ing. Jacobo El Pasoan Fies.

At the Last Elections Held Several Months Ago.

Trejo was elected by a very comfortable majority, but those opposed to his election raised a question as to his citizenship, saying that because of his three years of residence in the United States he had lost his Mexican citizenship. The discussion was carried to the state legislature and that body ordered a new election.

J. W. Curtiss, of El Paso, connected with a bottling establishment on the Fresno ranch, which place was visited last week by bandits and a quantity of goods, besides several horses, saddles and blankets stolen, has filed a claim against the government for $25,000 for loss of his property.

FLEES TO CITY FROM ROBBERS

After being robbed and ill treated by bandits at Parral, James W. Hambleton, an American buyer at Parral last Monday, accompanied by his wife and two children. They came into El Paso Thursday afternoon on the Mexican National train.

Mr. Hambleton related the following story of his holdup and robbery by a band of Mexicans at Parral last Monday night: "I was at the table with my family, having just finished supper when a masked man entered the house and said: 'Do move.' I grasped my gun and in a minute had him by the throat and threw him to the floor."

Then four more men, all of them armed with rifles and wearing the regulation 30-30 cartridge belts and with handkerchiefs covering part of their faces, got me and had me down, one of them holding a knife to my throat and the others holding pistols to my body.

"They made me get up and go down to my office, there open the safe and give them all the money I had in it, which was about $1500 Mexican money. While I was there, the others threatened my wife at home and tried to force her to tell them where she kept the house money."

"When I returned to the house, I was compelled to go to a small safe she had in her writing desk and give them all the money she had there. Then they forced me to open a jewelry case in which she had jewels worth about $500. Altogether they got $2400 Mexican money and the jewels valued at $500."

"I do not know who the men were nor where they came from, but am satisfied that some of them were from Parral."

The next morning I telegraphed to the British minister at Mexico City, for I am a British citizen, and, though I have lived in Mexico for 26 years, this is the first time that anything of the sort has happened to me. My telegram to the British minister was not answered and, therefore, I do not know whether or not he received it. I understand there have been other robberies and holdups in and near Parral. I do not know who the victims were. I heard that James L. Long, the American consular agent, was one of the victims and that they got about $300 from him.

"These men were bandits. They did not represent any party."
